Principally Speaking...

October was an exciting month around here. We had a wonderful turn-out for the annual Book Fair which really demonstrated how important reading is to all of our students and how supportive you all are of our library. Movie Night, with a great double feature, was so much fun with so many of you able to attend with your children. Thank you to Mrs. Harr and her team of volunteers, to the PTO, and to our technical support from Larry Garcia.

We are coming to the end of our 1st trimester and Parent-Teacher Conferences are scheduled beginning November 16. This is a good time to start reflecting on questions and concerns that you have regarding your child's progress so that you leave the conference feeling well informed. In addition, please share with your child, the comments and compliments discussed during the conference. This is a very important way to be involved with your child.

Our Musical Theater production of "AristoCats Kids" is schedule for Nov. 12th and 13th at 7:00 PM. Come see our talented K-3 cast. Admission is $1.00 per person.

Safety Concerns:

- Our rule at Lakeview is "no sharing food". The reason for this is we have many children with severe food allergies. We also want children to eat the food their parents send for them. Please help us reinforce this with the children.
- Please make sure to update your emergency cards with any changes, so that we always have current phone numbers to reach you or your emergency contacts.
- Please respect the drop off and pick up times at school. Supervision starts at 8:45 before school.

Minimum Days:

- November 16-20 - School is dismissed at 12:35 for grades 1-5. Please do not leave your child behind.

Congratulations to the Following Students
